Measuring the impact of PPG spending

Purchase of Times Tables RockStars, Mathletics and Purple Mash had an impact on learning at home and learning in school for children of Critical Workers and vulnerable children. Use of Oak Tree online lessons allowed children at home to be completing the same work as children in school.

Speech and Language Therapist and Caritas Family Support Worker worked throughout keeping in touch with families and offering support to the most vulnerable

Mini bus was used extensively to provide food parcels and other needed items to every family on FSMs and other vulnerable children

Children in school and at home were able to access online singing with AmaSing. Those in school took on the daily mile and participated in virtual competitions. Class pages were regularly updated with fitness and competition videos so that children at home could also join in.
